Dear [REDACTED]

Revitforum.org is a free and independent Revit forum run entirely by volunteers. They donate their time and knowledge every day to answer questions and help keep you productive. However the website hosting, software and bandwidth for delivering this great Revit resource costs money, and we depend on donations from our members to keep RFO running free of advertising, commercial sponsorship and subscription fees. We depend on you!

Please consider making a donation to keep it that way. We need to raise $3,000 (US dollars) and any amount you can donate is helpful - $2, $5, $10, $20, $50, $100 or more... whatever you can afford. How much is RFO worth to you? There are thousands of members from all over the world contributing invaluable information, answering questions and participating in great discussions 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

Think of how much time you save learning from the experiences of others, from this amazing community generously sharing their answers, tips and advice. How much is that worth to you? Maybe you depend on RFO to help develop and maintain the skills that keep you a valuable resource at your job? How many times has RFO made you look like the Revit guru at work? If you've even saved yourself a few hours in the past year through the generous help of others, please consider being generous back by donating to keep RFO going!

Does your whole firm or company benefit from what you and your team learn at RFO? Consider having your firm make a donation... just think, a mere dollar a day, $365 for a year of the best support from the most knowledgeable and talented Revit users on the planet. Seriously! Many of us literally wouldn't know what to do without RFO. Even $52 a year... just one little dollar a week makes all the difference. You spend thousands on software and support... would you or your office really miss a dollar a week?

We consider RFO the best forum resource on the internet, and we are here to keep it going for many years to come - but we need your help. We want to keep this membership donation drive as short as possible, so please make a donation today!

Look for the Donate bar at the top of each page. Thanks!
